EQUALITY & DIVERSITY POLICY

RISE is committed to providing an environment of service delivery and employment that promotes equality and diversity and combats discrimination in all its forms.

RISE values diversity, welcomes interest from all sections of the community and is committed to building and reinforcing a culture where people treat each other with respect. Respect is one of RISE's core values and therefore should be central to all we do.

RISE serves and employs people of many different backgrounds and works with many different communities. Our approach to equality and diversity forms part of the framework within which other policies, procedures and practices are developed and implemented.

RISE aims not to discriminate unlawfully on the grounds of gender, gender reassignment, age, disability, sexual orientation, religion or non belief, ethnicity, pregnancy or maternity, marriage or civil partnership or any other reason and aims to promote equal opportunity, community cohesion and good relations between people and groups of all backgrounds, lifestyles and beliefs.

All allegations of unlawful discrimination and harassment will be treated seriously. Any form of unlawful discrimination or harassment is totally unacceptable and such behaviour by staff is considered a disciplinary offence. All staff will receive training on Equality and Diversity.

APPENDIX 1

GLOSSARY OF USEFUL EQUALITY AND DIVERSITY TERMS

Age covers everyone. In certain cases, eg licensing laws, health and safety laws, other legislation will override equalities legislation eg it is lawful to refuse someone a job serving alcohol if they are under 18.

Bullying is defined as persistent, offensive, abusive, intimidating or insulting behaviour, an abuse of power or unfair sanctions that make the recipient feel upset, threatened, humiliated or vulnerable

Direct Discrimination is when someone is unlawfully treated less favourably than someone else due to a legally protected characteristic and there is no objective justification for this eg refusing to employ someone as a receptionist because they are too old.

Disability is a physical or mental impairment which has a substantial and long-term adverse effect on the ability to carry out normal day-to-day activities. Some long term illnesses are also covered. Learning disabilities and people with facial disfigurements may also be included.

Discrimination by Association – where someone is discriminated against on the basis that they are “associated with” someone in a protected group eg being discriminated against because your child is disabled.

Diversity means understanding and respecting the differences that exist amongst people both within and beyond legal requirements. It is about treating people as individuals and making them feel valued and respected.

Dual Discrimination – Direct discrimination due to a combination of two protected characteristics eg age and gender.

Equality is providing and promoting equality of opportunity. It is not treating everyone in the same way. Equality is about giving people fair access and opportunity whilst recognising that everyone is different with different needs and requirements.

Equality Impact Assessments – are assessments, based on evidence, that systematically assess and record the actual, potential or likely impact of a service, policy, project or plan on different groups of people. The findings are then used to make any required improvements or changes.

Genuine Occupational Qualification (GOQ) / Genuine Occupational Requirement (GOR) A GOQ / GOR applies where there is an exception under the relevant legislation, to allow for the recruitment, training, promotion or transfer of a person of a specific group due to the demands of the particular post eg a woman to work in a women-only refuge.

Harassment is unwanted conduct that violates a person’s dignity or creates an intimidating, hostile, degrading, humiliating or offensive working environment. This may include non-verbal behaviour, inappropriate action, comments, physical contact or banter against people.

Indirect Discrimination is when there is a policy, practice or procedure that applies to everyone but might disadvantage a particular group, and which cannot be justified in relation to the job eg an unjustified height requirement could adversely impact on females.

Race covers ethnic or national origins, nationality, race and colour.

Religion & Belief is defined as any religion or religious belief or non belief. Certain philosophical beliefs are also covered.

Sex covers men, women and transgender men and women (planning, undergoing or having completed gender reassignment or living as a gender different to that at birth). Women who are pregnant or breastfeeding also have specific legislative protection against discrimination.

Sexual Orientation This includes lesbians, gay people, heterosexuals and bi-sexual people.

Victimisation is when someone is treated less favourably or discriminated against because they have pursued or intended to pursue their rights relating to alleged discrimination.
